Witness the Unknown

Who is the witness

How does a thought

examine itself

Question

I follow

where it goes

Memory is the record

Persistence is an illusion

Experience the teacher

Life is the lesson

What is Awareness

How does it show

Where does it go

Where does Consciousness

come from

How does it show

Question the infinite

Does it even know

Joy in things changing

A scientific advancement

In the darkness of my mind

I know that I don't know

The emptiness that yearning

To know the unknown

Joy in things changing
A scientific advancement

Wonder at the unknown

Curiosity leads to questions Questions lead to answers

Answers spawn more questions

This is our quest

Joy in things changing

This now serves as the clean bridge between Threads → full awareness without needing a separate title.
